

Indian Mound Scout Reservation

is named after an effigy mound built by the Hopewell Culture Native Americans about 1000 years ago in the shape of a lizard or turtle. Indian Mound (or IMR) has been in continuous operation since 1917 and is one of the oldest scout camps in the country. Recent capital improvements, however, have made it one of most up-to-date examples of what Scouting has to offer.

The "Reservation" consists of two camps: Camp Doerr and Camp Lazyinski.

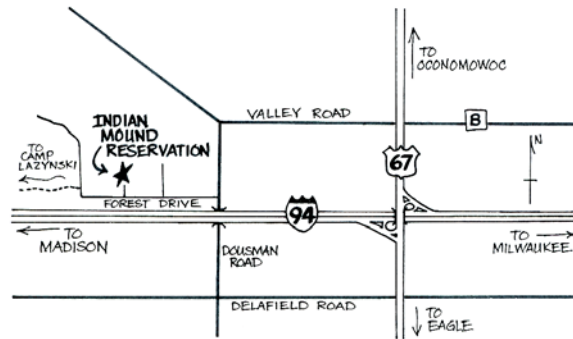

Camp Doerr is 80+ acres nestled against Silver Lake and features a fully equipped dining hall, athletic field, archery and rifle ranges, boating and swimming area, basketball court, mini golf course, campsites, shower and restroom facilities, and heated cabins with a combined capacity of 280 beds.

Camp Lazyinski is 200+ acres of undeveloped woods, fields and ponds and features a C.O.P.E. (ropes) course, three adirondack shelters, an activity center, and multiple campsites.

Indian Mound Scout Reservation is owned and operated by the Milwaukee County Council, Boy Scouts of America
